

REPORT

Title :

Sales & Profit trend Analysis Data

Summary :

This table shows the sales & profit details of various electronic devices (electronics , Accessories, office). The key highlights are :

Diverse products :items such as printers , mice, tablets , cameras ,headphones, and smartwatches have been sold.

Sales performance : Sales and profit for each transaction have been calculated individually.

Profit Percentage : using the formula $=[@profit]/[@sales]*100$, the profit percentage for each item is accurately calculated which helps identify the most profitable products.

Regions : sales have been conducted across north , south , east , west regions.

Conclusion :

This dataset is highly useful for analyzing business performance from this we can conclude :

Profitable products , Regional performance , business strategy overall this datasets provides essential insights required to drive business growth.