

1. Which products contribute the most to our total profit ,and how do they perform in terms of overall sales volume ?

2. What were the key drivers for the sales peak in 2023, and how does the regional profit performance compare across the different years?

3. Which months show the most significant sales fluctuations and are there any specific patterns in demand for different categories throughout the year ?

4. Region is driving the highest profitability across different product categories and are there any categories that are underperforming in specific regions ?

